Due to inclement weather, the return flight Brussels-New York-Washington, D.C. was delayed, and the next connecting flight from New York to get to DC was overbooked. The airline rebooked a number of staffers on a different flight that day from Brussels direct to DC, and a number of staffers stayed on the delayed flight and rebooked from New York. The airline rebooked me, however, to the same flight the next day. The next day that flight was also delayed, so the airline rebooked me on another flight/airline that landed in Dulles. I paid for a hotel one night in Brussels on July 8th. The airline did not reimburse that expense as the delay was due to weather.

Private Sponsor Travel Certification Form – Pre Trip -Additional Responses

The Wilson Foreign Policy Fellowship Program aims to educate Congressional staffers on foreign policy issues critical to U.S. national security, as well as to foster bipartisan working relationships. The trip supplements the work of the program's six-week seminar series, providing fellows with an opportunity to gain first-hand understanding of some of the policy challenges and opportunities discussed in the seminars. The focus for this trip is Europe: Challenges and Opportunities. Field visits will include meetings in Berlin on U.S. – German Relations, the German domestic political landscape, the German economic model, the German legislature, and migration issues; in Paris on Franco- U.S. relations, French foreign policy strategy, business opportunities in France under the new administration, and the fight against radicalization in the new age of terrorist threats; in Brussels on the transatlantic relationship, the future of the European institutions, EU-US trade issues, the European legislative process, and NATO: the United States, NATO allies, and partner delegations.

14. Briefly describe each sponsor's prior history of sponsoring congressional trips:

15. Briefly describe the educational activities performed by each sponsor (other than sponsoring congressional trips):

The Wilson Center is the official memorial to President Woodrow Wilson. In addition to carrying out public meetings and events, the Center hosts preeminent scholars and experts from around the globe who are researching topics of national and international relevance. The Center also welcomes school groups (both high school and college students) from all over the United States and the world to explore the Wilson Center and its Presidential Memorial Exhibition and Learning Center. A list of recent programs can be found on the Center's website at www.wilsoncenter.org.

18. Reason for selecting the location of the event or trip.

Europe was selected as the general location for the trip given the renewed interest in Europe and the many challenges EU member states are facing as well as the European Union as a whole, which could impact US relations with individual allies as well as the EU. Germany was chosen to highlight the economic might of Europe, to help participants understand the domestic political landscape in the midst of upcoming elections, and to better understand how Germany and Europe are dealing with migration issues. France was selected as a contrast to Germany, to allow participants the chance to see a different perspective on Europe. In addition, France is leading the fight against counterterrorism in Europe and has had to adapt to be able to face new emerging threats. Finally, Brussels is the home to both the EU and NATO, both important organizations with worldwide impact. Here we will visit and learn about both institutions, highlighting transatlantic relations and challenges they face in the future.

Due to inclement weather, the return flight Brussels-New York-Washington, D.C. was delayed. The airline rebooked a number of staffers on a different flight that day, and a number of staffers stayed on the delayed flight and rebooked from New York. The airline rebooked me, however, to the same flight the next day. The next day that flight was also delayed, so the airline rebooked me on another flight/airline that landed in Dulles. I paid for a hotel one night in Brussels on July 8th. The airline did not reimburse that expense as the delay was due to weather.
